4.1. CM.com will pay Supplier for the Products and Services in the amounts agreed upon and set forth in the applicable Schedule or Purchase Order. Said compensation shall be the entire compensation to which Supplier shall be entitled to hereunder, and neither Supplier nor any Supplier Personnel or any other person or entity retained by Supplier shall be entitled to receive any other compensation or amounts, including reimbursements for expenses or taxes. If any invoice received does not meet these criteria, then CM.com may return such invoice to Supplier for correction and the payment of such invoice will be subject to reasonable delay in processing and payment. In addition, CM.com may deduct from or offset against any payment to Supplier all monies claimed in good faith to be due or becoming due to CM.com from Supplier whether in connection with this Agreement or otherwise.

Pending settlement or resolution of the issue(s), CM.com's non-payment of these items shall not constitute default by CM.com, and shall not entitle Supplier to suspend or delay its performance of Services and provision of the Products. Should Parties fail to resolve the dispute within thirty (30) days upon initial notice, the dispute may be escalated to senior management upon agreement between the Parties.

5. Term and Termination

5.1. This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and shall remain in effect until terminated by either Party pursuant to article 5.2 from this Agreement ("Term").

5.5. In the event of any termination of this Agreement, a Schedule, or a Purchase Order, at CM.com's written request, Supplier will provide reasonable transition services either directly to CM.com or its designated third party to transition any work in progress or other Services that need to be continued after such termination. Such transition services shall be at no additional cost and shall include, without limitation, providing detailed instructions, list of parts, subcontractors or other elements then existing necessary to complete the work or continue use of the Services or deliverables. Supplier will reasonably cooperate with CM.com and its designated third party, if any, so that the transfer of any work in progress or other Services on termination is achieved with the minimum of disruption to CM.com and the Services to which the termination applies.
